New Burning By-Law

A new Burning By-Law was recently approved by City Council. In addition to prohibiting flying lanterns within Steinbach and introducing fines for false alarms, the new by-law outlines rules for:

Open-Air Fires - Must be enclosed on all sides by a pit of non-combustible material, not cause nuisance for neighbours or reduce visibility on a highway.

Burn Permits - Required if a fire does not comply with the by-law. Permits can be obtained, at no cost, by contacting the Steinbach Fire Department at 204-326-1109.

The by-law also outlines a new three-stage Fire Danger Index that will be used to identify fire risk for the City based on moisture and weather conditions.

LOW
Burning as outlined in the Burning By-Law permitted.

2
HIGH
Burn permits will not be issued, current permits suspended.

3
EXTREME
Complete ban of all open-air fires.

The city encourages residents to become familiar with the new Fire Danger Index so they can be informed and act accordingly. Changes to the fire danger status will be posted on the City's website, social media channels, and a notification will be sent to local media. More information about the City's new Burning By-Law can be found at Steinbach.ca.
